Helpful Information Any mat, whether for a complete ad or a single element, is merely a faithful mold of a printing plate. Your newspaper uses it as a simple cast in molding the metal for your ad, and adds other elements, such as your name and address, by setting additional type to fit the available space. Your newspaper can use as little or as much of a mat as you specify. Never cut into a mat, just indicate on its proof which parts are desired for reproduction. Maidenform's mats are of the highest quality available... can be used many times... good reason for keeping them intact.
