K. Manitowish

All the peoples of different nationalities of this world they asked us where we were born. ^{The people} ~~He~~ said: "God made me the first one of this earth. When god made me, he made a man out of clay, made my eyes and my mouth, and my ears so I could hear. He made me out of red clay. He told me to look as far as I could see. Then he said:
"Look at yourself, at ~~of~~ all of you, your legs and feet, all over. That's the name you are going to go by." That is why the people got angry at us. They tried to kill us all. We are still living, they did not kill us all. So when they began, Wāpasaiy^a, he claimed he was sent down here, born here. He said while looking down at them ^{us} he liked them and intended to do with them ^{us}. So they got to killing us. When he got to be a man, he went to the war-path. He went killing every tribe, except one, the Iowa Indians.
Then all the people got angry because they were being killed off. So we said to Wāpasaiy^a: Wāpasaiy^a, quit doing this. We will let you be the head chief? "So he said: Have any peoples come in?" "Yes." "Will I ~~be~~ believe I'll take their scalps once more. Then I will make up my mind what I will do." He did not make up his mind. He killed those persons, but would not accept the place. Except the Iowa, he took the scalps of all nationalities. The Indians passed the pipe around all tribes of which W. had killed members. They blackened their faces, praying, hoping to get W's scalp. One tribe said:

 "The member of one tribe dreamed:
 "God has given me W's scalp & body." They notified all the peoples of the dream. They set a time to have him surrounded. When they ~~were~~ the Foxes were surrounded. They were being starved. They there was no way to get out. The Foxes celebrated a feast of the clans. [They have a bag a red fox yet]. They were singing in the night. The ~~wolf's~~ skin was on the ground. ^{the} wolf or fox "old grandmother")

Two fellows were standing up all night watching the wolf. They took the hide in water, soaking it; they got it in two deep. It began to rain. It then began snowing. It snowed about 5 feet. They who surrounded the Mesquakes were covered with snow. Our people began to get out. There was a big grove of timber; they were aiming for that. The old people got there and told the young people to have guards out. "We will make a fort; you keep the people out back while we make a fort for you." All the Mesquakes got out. So the snow slacked up, and enemy saw the tracks of those who went out last. One woman was about to have a child. There was a hollow tree. So she got under there. So they who were making the charge kept stepping on the log, hollow tree. Every time they ch they made a hole by stepping on it. So the young people said: "let us make the fort, and you old people fight." The old people agreed. When the fort was finished the old people were all slain. Wāpasaiya was captured.

His friend was caught too. "So it you who is called W." "You ought to know" he said, "That's my name."
"How many people have you killed?"
"What do you want to know for?"
"We wish to know to prove if you are the right man." Here is a weed which ~~grows~~ grows as thick as the little finger about 4 feet high, called "kipicick". He told them: Bring me them, all you can carry. They brought a ^{leaves} handfull. He laughed.
"That's not enough; get some more." They brought up an armfull. Two had gone to fetch them. He cried out "That's not enough. Four of you fetch them." They were then 5 bundles.
"That is not enough. But I can put up with it." He told them to break them up about a foot long each.
Here was a pile nearly as high as he was when it was all broken up.
He took ~~one~~ one stick to count how many he had killed of that tribe; he did so with the rest. "We had good times" he said. They said to him Have not you killed anyone lately?

 "Yes," he was ^{my} brother said the other. "I did not take him to be ~~your chief~~ one of your leading men. I took him to be a scabby dog." W said to him. They kept count. He told how many were killed in tribe. He kept putting bushels of sticks aside. All were used up. "That's what I did. If you are not satisfied you can get some more sticks." "We are satisfied you are the right man." "How is your friend?" "Why he is here. He killed as many as I. He took an ax & split open the head of your brother." They tied W on a tree. ^{Indian} p. 6 "Are you hungry?" "Yes" he said.
 They cut off a chunk of his flesh and handed it to him. & they kept on till he was nothing but bones, but he kept on talking.
 They built a fire. They burned him up. Ma skuta new in^a said "You will ^{burn} up & your village."
 "No I will be burnt by your village" so it will all be destroyed". The Markutäneniva was about to slay W's friend with an ax. He ^{p5} struck him over the head; but he didn't feel it. He simply sat there - Another Markutäneniva stepped up.

 "Here quit that! He's my brother in place of the one who was killed".
 So he took him home. The ^{one} who was killed had two wives. "Here," ^{p7} said ~~the~~ father of he who was killed "I've brought you your husband.
 He's my son." He thought he was killed but he wasn't. He ~~stayed~~ The man stayed with the women awhile, but decided to go back when he had a chance. So he went deer hunting, brought in lots of venison. His wife was drying it. He was sometimes gone a couple of days. So he ~~stuck~~ out. The man's wives ¹⁹³³ thought he was gone, and ^{p. 7} then came home. The old man got mad. "Do you suppose he will get back to the foxes "he said, "He will not get there." He had a medicine ~~that~~ would overtake him.

As he got in he dropped dead.
That's the end.
